HUBER'S VOTE KILLS TITUS ECONOMY MEASURE

TIE RESULTS IN ROLL CALL OF SENATORS

Bill to Consolidate State Bureaus and Commissions Is Quashed

KEPPEL, SAUTHOFF QUIT
Two Amendments Proposed by Padway Are Accepted Before Final Vote

Madison.—The vote of Lieutenant Governor Henry Huber, presiding officer of the state senate, Thursday killed the Titus bill for the consolidation of state bureaus, boards and commissions, after the senate had voted, 16 to 14, to reconsider its vote by which the bill was indefinitely postponed Wednesday.

The deciding ballot was cast on the question whether the bill should be engrossed and ordered to third reading. A tie resulted from the roll call of the senate personnel, 15 to 15, and the presiding officer was called upon to decide the issue. For a time it appeared that the bill might carry by two votes, but on the deciding ballot Senators Val Keppel and Harry Sauthoff who had been voting with proponents of the bill on the motion leading up to the climax, changed their position and voted against engrossment.

Senator William A. Titus, sponsor of the bill which was based on the Pennsylvania reorganization law in successful operation, led the fight for reconsideration and engrossment. He was resisted by Senators Joseph Padway and Walter H. Hunt.

The roll call on which the bill was voted engrossment:

For engrossment—Dazel, Gettelman, Hull, Hunt, Lange, Meligan, Morris, Padway, Polakowski, Rothe, Schuman, Severson, Smith, Titus and White—15.

Against engrossment—Barber, Barker, Bilrein, Carroll, Cashman, Chase, Englund, Garey, Johnson, Kemp, Keppel, Quick, Sauthoff, Staudenmayer, Teasdale—15.

Paid—Heck, against, and Boldt for.

Absent—Casperton.

ADOPT AMENDMENTS
Previous to the final vote two amendments offered by Senator Padway were adopted. Those, in effect, salvaged the departments of dairy and food commissioner and the state real estate board from merger with other departments.

An amendment by Senator George Staudenmayer to change the title of the bill to "bill to advance the political prospects of certain senators," was held by the presiding officer. Senator Sauthoff on motion had the amendment and all remarks pertaining to it expunged from the records.

An attempt to strike out the enabling act, on motion of Senator A. E. Garey, administration floor leader, failed, 15 to 14, as did a motion by Senator Howard Teasdale to refer the measure to the committee on state and local government, 15 to 14.

When the bill came on for debate after its postponement of Wednesday had been reconsidered, Senator Garey charged the bill proponents "were trying to place the Progressives of Wisconsin in a disadvantageous position. The measure, he said, was a political weapon from start to finish the conservatives in the role of attempting to initiate an issue in the next campaign.

Garey declared the proponents had political ambitions. The administration, through its board of public affairs, had been working for two years on a plan of elimination of duplication in state government, but were not ready to report their findings, he said.

The assertions of Senator Garey were vigorously denied by Senator Hunt who declared there was no politics in the bill. It was a start he said, in an honest attempt to bring about a better condition in state government and this had the endorsement of the people of the state.

2,000 Filipinos Are Made Homeless By Fire

By Associated Press
Chicago.—Senator R. M. LaFollette of Wisconsin will speak at a "LaFollette field day" at Riverview park here on August 1, the Progressive party in Illinois announced Thursday.

The party also announced a rally to be held Friday night when Party Chairman, Farmer-Labor candidate in 1920 and Charles J. MacGowen, state chairman of the party, and others will speak.

Manila.—Two thousand natives were rendered homeless by a fire in Cavite, residential province, which destroyed the small houses there. The fire started in a theatre where a motion picture was being shown and a number of persons were injured while waving the burning building. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

FISHIN' ONLY ABOY'S SPORT TO PRESIDENT

Stocking Tidal Basin With Fish Matter for Investigation, Coolidge Thinks

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925, by Post Pub. Co., Washington — All the fishermen hereabouts wondered if they eyes received them when they read published reports that President Coolidge didn't think of fishing as a sport for grown-ups but as identified primarily with childhood.

The "White House spokesman"—that anonymous personality who reveals with authority the views, inner feelings and emotions of the president—had given the newspaper correspondents a comment in answer to their questions about stocking the Tidal Basin with fish.

The comment follows:

"The president didn't know enough about the fishing possibilities of the Tidal basin to make an intelligent comment on the suggestion that the basin should be stocked with fish. He had advocated out of door life but whether that would be conducive to any success in that direction, he didn't know. Fishing he had always identified more with the sport of children than that of grown-ups. He supposed that was more or less because of his own experience. He used to fish when he was a boy and with a good deal of satisfaction. The newspapermen who were up in Vermont with him would surely remember the brook that runs down through the meadow. When he was a boy that loaded to him to be a large and important stream. He used to repair to it as often as he could after school and catch fish there. That was about the extent of his fishing experience. Now other people get a good deal of satisfaction in going to Florida or into the north woods to fish. Stocking the Tidal basin wouldn't minister to the desires of the people of that kind. So that the president should think after a moment's consideration it would probably appear that the only good it would do would be to furnish a place for the small boy. If it really would

DOOMED MAN GIVEN 90 DAYS MORE TO LIVE

Springfield, Ill.—Governor Small Thursday morning granted Russell Scott a 90-day reprieve to save him from hanging Friday.

Scott's lawyers left the court room directly for Governor Small's office to make a last request for a stay to save the court more time.

Scott's lawyers had no sooner reached the executive office when the announcement was made. The governor had indicated Wednesday that he would not interfere if the Supreme court acted.

When Anderson's session of the court passed it was officially announced the petition was too long for proper examination in so short a time, so the governor granted the stay.

Each delegate will represent an entire county organization.

TWO STORES BURN IN NIGHT BLAZE AT HORTONVILLE

New London Department Is Called to Help Save Business District from Destruction

Combined battling by the Hortonville and New London fire departments was the means of saving the business district of Hortonville from destruction Wednesday night when the Fred Truxx electrical store and the Oscar Schultz confectionery burned. The buildings were partially consumed and the merchandise and fixtures ruined.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schultz, who lived in apartments above the store, were asleep and found themselves trapped by the flames when they were awakened and tried to escape. Mr. Schultz managed to dash down the stairway but Mrs. Schultz had to be rescued from a second story window by firemen. She had time to put on only a few wraps.

CHIMNEY BLAMED

The fire broke out about 10:30 in the Truxx store near the stairway and is supposed to have been caused by a defective chimney. The two stores are in one unit, the Schultz portion having two stories, and the building is of pine. Flames therefore made rapid headway and were almost beyond control by the time the fire department was able to turn streams of water upon them.

When it was evident that the fire department and the assisting villagers might not be able to check the blaze a call was sent to New London and the department there responded quickly with its Four Wheel Drive motor pumper. Both this machine and the Hortonville Four Wheel Drive truck purchased about two months ago pumped powerful streams from the mill pond and a two and a half hour fight hemmed the fire in to the original source and extinguished it.

SAVE OTHER BUILDINGS

A vacant frame store building on one side owned by Fred Torrey and the brick department store of Elmer Falk on the other side were in constant danger of being ignited. Judicious application of water saved them, however. Virgil Poole, chief of the fire department, declares that the fire never could have been controlled without the new fire apparatus.

Both the Truxx and Schultz stores are out of business temporarily. The Truxx portion of the building was practically ruined together with his merchandise and the top portion of the Schultz place was badly burned. Water spoiled much of the property not touched or scorched by the fire. Considerable of the Schultz family's household goods was removed.

Mr. Schultz owned the entire building and Chief Poole estimates that his loss on it will be about $2,000. He believes the Schultz merchandise and personal property and that of Mr. Truxx each will represent a loss of $1,000. It is understood that the loss is covered by insurance.

DEATHS

ANDERSON FUNERAL

The body of Mrs. James Anderson of Chicago, who died Tuesday morning, arrived in Appleton at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon and was taken to the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peerenboom, 328 W. Eighth. The funeral will be at 9 o'clock Friday morning at St. Mary church, with interment in St. Mary cemetery. Bearers will be Edward McGilligan of Menasha, George Walsh, Frank Bachman, M. S. Peerenboom, John Conaway and George Baldwin.

JOHN BEVERNITZ

John Bevernitz, 75, died Tuesday evening at the home of his daughter Mrs. Fred Fiedt, Center, after an illness of two months. He was born in Scherline, Germany, and came to this country 40 years ago, making his home on a farm in Center. Twenty-three years ago he moved to the town of Black Creek where he lived until last December when he went to Center to live with his daughter. He is survived by his widow, one son, Chris, Clintonville; four daughters, Mrs. Fred Fiedt, Center; Mrs. William Lazear, Black Creek; Mrs. Gust Sedo, Black Creek; Mrs. Walter Teeklin, Center, and twelve grandchildren. Funeral services are to be held at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon from the late home, after which the body will be taken to St. John Lutheran church in Black Creek. The Rev. Focken will have charge of the services. Interment will be in Twelve Corners Lutheran cemetery.

MRS. LILLIAN BRIT

Mrs. Lillian Brit, 22, who was killed in an automobile accident a short time ago at Evanston, Wyoming, will arrive in Appleton Thursday evening. The body will be taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. George Doerfer.

CITY'S SYSTEM OF FIRE ALARMS IS INADEQUATE

Complete Building Essential for Good Service, Chief
McGillan Says

Appleton's fire alarm system is entirely inadequate for a city of this size, according to George P. McGillan, chief of the Appleton Fire department. The number of circuits in the city has not been changed since the system first was installed many years ago, Chief McGillan said, and the circuits are so crowded that it is practically impossible to add another box.

The chief stated that within the past few years he had brought the matter before the city council several times, but without definite results. He states that in his opinion alarm boxes should be not more than 800 feet apart in the residential section and 500 feet in the business section. But, he said, there are sections down town in which there is not a single box for many blocks. For instance, the section including the Conway hotel, Hotel Northern, Hotel Appleton and Briggs hotel has no alarm box with the exception of a private one installed in the Hettlinger Lumber Co. yards, which cannot be used by anyone but the company. All factories and schools in the city are equipped with private alarm boxes, while hotels are not.

LOCATE ALARM BOX

Chief McGillan said that in recent years people relied more on the telephone than on the alarm boxes in case of fire. In some cases, however, the telephone line is destroyed before it can be reached, and in such cases the alarm system is the sole resource. Therefore every resident should acquaint himself with the location of the nearest box, and learn how to operate it.

There are two types of alarm boxes in use in the city at present, the chief said. The older type has a key enclosed in a glass box. The procedure in turning in an alarm on this type is to smash the glass and turn the key, which starts the alarm.

The second and more modern type is known as the non-interfering successive box. The alarm is turned in by opening the door and pulling down the hook found inside. When two or more alarms are turned in at the same time on this type, the one turned first rings until finished, and the second and third follow in order.

If more boxes are to be installed, Chief McGillan said, the entire system will have to be rebuilt, and in order to obtain really efficient fire protection this should be done. Citizens who desire to have a box installed in their neighborhood must present their plea to the city council, which refers the request to the police and fire commission for investigation and report. If the report is favorable, the council orders the new box installed.

Fire Department Glad Rains Came

Grass Fire Tuesday Afternoon Believed to Be Last of Record Number

Appleton fire department hopes that an alarm sounded at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon meant the last grass fire of the season, inasmuch as a long awaited rain descended shortly after that hour and drenched the many dried out fields. The call came from Newberry st. where the grass had ignited but no damage was caused.

Rain did not put an entire quietus on fires, however, as a gasoline stove exploded at 8:30 Wednesday morning at the home of Michael Curtis, 691 S. Story st. and the department made a run there. The stove was ruined but very little damage was done to the home.

Several runs have been made each day for weeks to quench grass fires and others that had started in rubbish. The lack of the customary spring rains has caused the department to establish a record for the number of alarms received within any one period.

PARKED "STOLEN" CAR WITHIN SIGHT OF POLICE STATION

Appleton police department made a search Tuesday night for a supposed stolen automobile that was parked within a few rods of the station. The car belonged to the O. K. Taxi line and was parked outside a home where Carl Kunitz was making a call. When he returned for the machine it had disappeared. The police were notified and began searching the city. In the meantime, however, other policemen discovered the car resting in the public parking square on N. Oneida st. Friends of Mr. Kunitz had driven away with the car to play a joke on him and parked it "so near and yet so far."

THE KANSAS INDUSTRIAL COURT

The court of industrial relations of Kansas after a few years of hectic and uncertain life, has come to an ignoble end. Twice has the Supreme Court of the United States directly held that its compulsory efforts to control either employer or employee are directly in violation of the freedom of contract inherently belonging to every individual in the country.

Even aside from the legal matters involved, the effort of the people of Kansas to terminate all industrial disputes and strife by court action, has in practical life been demonstrated to be quite visionary.

The Kansas idea was that all people engaged in the manufacture or preparation of food, clothing, fuel, as well as transportation and other public utilities, were engaged in businesses "with a public interest" and therefore subject to regulation by the public acting through its legislature. The act was based upon a decision of the federal supreme court that in a nation wide dispute over wages between railroad companies and their train operatives, with a general strike, commercial paralysis and grave loss and suffering overhanging the country, Congress had power to prescribe wages, not confiscatory but obligatory on both for a reasonable time to enable them to agree.

There it was held that the business of common carriers by rail, was, in one aspect, a public business because of the interest of society in its continued operation and rightful conduct, and that this gave rise to a public right of regulation to the full extent necessary to secure and protect it: that, viewed as an act fixing wages, it was an essential regulation for protection of public right; that it did not invade the private right of the carriers because their property and business were subject to the power of government to insure fit relief by appropriate means; and it did not invade private rights of employees, since their right to demand wages and to leave the employment, individually or in concert, was subject to limitation by congress because it is public business which congress might regulate under the commerce power which it has. Kansas in its attempted regulation of industrial life went much further than congress in meeting emergency arising by reason of a dispute between a public carrier and its employees.

There is quite a difference between the butcher, the baker, the clothier and the miner, on the one hand, and a public service corporation upon the other. The power of our legislatures to compel continuity in a business can arise only where the obligation of continued service by the owner and its employees is direct, and is assumed when the business is entered upon. A public service corporation when it accepts a franchise from the people is not free to withdraw the use of that which it has granted to the public. No such situation exists in the ordinary business, whether it be devoted to food, clothing, fuel or other commodities. To permit the legislature to regulate a public business during an emergency and only when grave peril confronts the people generally must mark the borderline in legislative interference.

Mr. Gompers was foremost in his attack upon the Kansas court of industrial relations. He foresaw with the unerring trend of his knowledge of human affairs and institutions that the act was not practical, would create a wholly artificial standard of life wherein workers and employers alike acted more like automata than humans. He characterized the act as "slavery for employees and employers alike." The supreme court in reviewing the act passed merely upon the lack of power in a legislative body to so completely interfere with the freedom of contract belonging to every individual under the constitution.

The Kansas court did not succumb to the first decision at Washington. It did not give up the ghost easily. It insisted that it still had the right to fix the hours of labor and the penalties for going beyond those hours. These are matters which have generally been fixed by contract between the employer and the union or association representing the employees. And when the Kansas court attempted to fix the hours of labor it again embarked upon a dangerous venture. It is now conceded that legislative bodies or their agencies such as the Kansas court, may adjust the hours of labor, particularly of women, and in inherently dangerous occupations, but such right is allowable only upon the basis of the public health and the future virility of the race. To go beyond those limitations is again to interfere with rights that belong to individuals and must not be made the subject of a legislative football game.

We think the action of the Federal supreme court is human and progressive. In result it prevents the law from harnessing or straightjacketing either workers or employers excepting where limitation upon the rights of all is necessary for the health and well being of the public generally and in relation to public service corporations which, in consideration of the public rights given them, are bound to continue their property in the public use whether they like it or not.

It is clear that the Kansas act was the attempt by well meaning persons to terminate industrial strife and dispute. In theory it sounded attractive; but attractive theories do not always work out well and the measures of well meaning persons often miscarry. The fundamental principles of the constitution, one of which is the freedom of the individual to contract as he chooses, alone or in union with others, are principles which outlive all theories. They must not be subverted for a little temporary advantage. Collective bargaining, while not perfect in its results, has gone a great distance in solving many industrial problems. Both employers and employees understand their own problems and the knots to be unraveled better than any industrial court however well advised. The citizen, in whatsoever class in life he may find himself, naturally resents any interference with his life or work beyond that which is essential for the public good.

Yet, efforts like the Kansas act are in the right direction even if they are only efforts. We make no progress while we stand still. Sound progress consists of about ninety-nine per cent of experience and one per cent of theory. The Kansas act mixed the ingredients in wrong measure.

TODAY'S POEM
By HAL COCHRANPLAY
What do you mean when you solemnly say, "I guess that I'm getting old?" I'll bet you've forgotten the secret of play. If the story were truthfully told.

You can't limp around in an old easy chair and spend all your time just a fidgeting. If that's what you do—well, it seems only fair that the age aches the thing you are getting.

Too often we fall at just facing the truth 'cause it's easy to load life away. We know that there still is a calling of youth if we'd only get up and play.

Real vigor and vim will keep people in trim though a great many years have been tolled. When you let such things halt, well, it's just your own fault if you have to admit that you're old.

Come one there, young fellow, don't simply be yellow, but put up an age fight that's real. If you learn how to play, you'll agree when I say, that you're only as old as you feel.

Have you noticed the scarcity of men in the past? It's because the women don't like to be hard headed.

Lots of times a man thinks a girl is crazy about him because she can't get a date with anybody else.

Style hints for the future predict "other men" go without everything except money.

Joyce is ill, especially fond of liquor; so is the lover after drinking some of it.

When you are riding along a country lane and she takes off her hat it's time to smoke your pipe.

Women who marry to become pets usually lead a dog's life.

Some people couldn't kick any more if they were constipated.

Once they kissed and made up. Now they kiss the make up.

If home and ease get any more expensive, we will be contented a couple of high times.

If time are not opportunity, don't knock.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician And Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. HAVE A PLACE IN THE SUN

From the way most people avoid the sunlight and contrive to exclude it from their dwellings it would seem that nobody knows that all health and energy come from the sun. In recent years it has been the popular habit to provide something purporting to be a sun room when planning a new home, but this sun room too often amounts to a fraud so far as admitting sunlight is concerned, for the ingenuous housewife seldom rests content until she has pretty effectively covered all the windows with hangings or shades of one kind or another and converted the discouraged sun room into a dowdy place which would attract a gypsy, perhaps, but is in certain not a sun room. Every home should have all the sunlight there is to be had, and every room should be planned with this object in view. It is a bad habit, nothing more, excluding the question of sunlight from the plans and then when the house is finished, sticking on a kind of enclosed porch as an afterthought and making the silly coop serve as a sad excuse for a sun room. This combination coop and sun room horror was probably some shrewd landlord's contrivance to convert a veranda into an additional room in the first place and the evil has grown until in some communities it amounts to a veritable pestilence, every house that goes up having its fake sun room stuck on somewhere.

There are at least three reasons, all of them poor reasons, why people avoid the sunlight too much. First it fades household furnishings and so many householders think more of their furnishings than they do of the health. Second, there is a fear of sunstroke. Sunstroke may sometimes actually happen—I do not deny that such a thing is possible, but it is at least as rare as human rabies, and very few people would exclude all dogs from the community to prevent rabies. Third, there is a widespread belief that exposure to direct sunlight is bad for the complexion. This belief was formerly confined to the feminine sex, but many of our dainty young skeins now devote earnest study of their complexions and they dodge the sunlight as much as possible.

As a matter of fact the habit of sun bathing is very beneficial to the complexion. Didn't our own Mary Garden leave for Europe again only the other day to resume her sunbaths? Not that the sunlight is any purer around the Mediterranean, but Mary knows a spot over there where there isn't so much rubber. Sun bathing means simply exposing the poor old skin, as much of it as the law allows, to direct sunlight. It must be only a small portion of the skin and for only a few minutes at a time in the beginning, and very gradually increasing duration and extent of exposure from day to day, in order to prevent sunburn. The effect of sun bathing upon the skin is invariably the same; it gives the skin a finer texture and makes it smoother and softer to the touch and clears away many minor blemishes. Of course it also tans the skin more or less if kept up for a sufficient length of time. But aside from artificial conceptions propagated by commercial interests, there is nothing incompatible between a coat of tan and beauty.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Disposition of Diseased Tonsils

I am a young man of 35 years of age. I had a health examination by Life Extension Institute examiners; they told me I have diseased tonsils and I must have them eradicated. I have no family doctor, therefore on advice of a friend I went to an X-ray specialist. He told me that tonsil operation is a serious operation for persons over 15 years of age, and that he has seen some people operated on for their tonsils who have been sick for six months from the blood of the operation, therefore the only way, he said, is to cure it by X-ray treatment. Also I went to a medical doctor that claimed that X-ray treatments are dangerous and he has seen many cases where after X-ray treatments. (B. L. W.)

Answer.—It is dangerous just to be alive, nowadays. Diseased or infected tonsils are serious.

Operation for the removal of tonsils is serious, no matter what the patient's age. X-ray treatment for anything is serious. Letting the trouble go untreated is serious. You are in a serious predicament. In your place I think I'd select a common, ordinary physician in whom I could have confidence, and leave it to him to deal with his tonsils as he deems best.

Ex-convicts Are Watched In Rome

(From the Police Magazine). One of the tasks which in part falls to the Roman policeman's lot is what is known as the Special Vigilance of Public Safety. This has no counterpart in American laws. It is not a period of probation given as a reward—quite the contrary!

It is probation, right enough, but it is inflicted as a supplementary sentence, to be served after the criminal leaves his place of detention. To this end there are 10 commandments which the released convict must observe with rigid exactitude, as follows:

1. He must find a steady job and stick to it.

2. He must not move from one dwelling to another without permission.

3. He must not stay up late at night, nor leave his dwelling in the morning earlier than a time specified by the police.

4. He must have no weapons in his possession and no instrument capable of ready use as a weapon.

5. He must not frequent brothels, taverns or the like.

6. Neither must he frequent theaters or public assemblies of any sort.

7. He must not associate with people of low character.

8. His own conduct must be above suspicion.

9. He must not fail to report to the police on the specified days and at any other time when called upon.

10. Never to be without his certificate of registration by which to identify himself.

This means that the police must keep a watch upon these convicts which can be compared only to that which is kept by the mistress of a young ladies' finishing school over her pupils, with the added difficulty that convicts are no longer gathered under one roof. Only a part of this task devolves upon the uniformed man.

Best Wedding Age
Is 21, Says Writer

(From The Portland Oregonian.)

One of those sweet journalists who gives advice to the lovelorn propounds the query: "What is the best age for a man to marry?" and, then, of course, she answers it and quotes a noted physiologist in support of her contention. Young men should marry at the age of 25. Prior to that age they should absolutely resist the blandishments and artifices of the fairest charmer but once the magic boundary is passed they need have no fears. They are ripe for the marriage vows.

Married men will venture to disagree with this feminine authority. Since all of them are married, more or less, it allows that most of them have decided opinions on when a young man ought to abandon bachelorhood and assume the marital responsibility, together with the furnishings of the home.

Q. What part of the weight of a fowl is lost in dressing it? L. G.

A. The weight of a fowl after the head, feet, bones and inedible entrails have been removed is from 15 to 20 per cent less.

Q. When was the harp put on the flag of Ireland? C. M. O.

A. The harp first appeared on the Irish standard during the reign of Henry VIII. (1509-1547). It was selected because the harp was the national Irish instrument. The earliest record

Q. Why is a console table so-called? V. D.

A. Console is a French architectural term applied to an upright corbel in architecture which forms a stone bracket. In the case of the console table, the name is derived from the shape of the legs, resembling scroll-shaped brackets. They are usually richly ornamented.

Q. Is there any point on the high seas where bottom has not been explored? M. S.

A. There are many deeps in both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans that have not yet been completely explored. The greatest known depth is 32,436 feet equal to 6.8 miles, which is found 145 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Q. In what order are the insurance policies now being mailed to ex-service men? C. A. M.

A. Generally the adjusted service certificates are being issued in the order of their receipt; however, a great many cases require correction and perhaps special investigation. In this case the certificate is held up for a short period.

Q. What does crime cost the United States in actual money? B. T.

A. Edward H. Smith in "Business" says that the total annual levy that crime places on the country amounts to about $10,000,000,000. It is three and a half times the national budget for 1923, and at least twelve times the annual cost of the Army and Navy.

Q. If a check is forwarded by the Pension Bureau to a pensioner who has died a day or two before his pension became due is his estate entitled to the check or any part of it? S. G. McC.

A. The Pension Office says that in the case stated by you the estate of the dead pensioner is not entitled to discontinue the office of representation to the Vatican. This is now under discussion.

Convo, Ohio.—"During the Change of Life I was weak and run-down and could hardly do any work. By reading your advertisements I found out about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has straightened me right out and made me feel like a new woman. By the time I had taken eight bottles I was well and could do my housework on the farm without trouble. I recommended it to my daughter-in-law after her second baby was born and it did her a wonderful lot of good. I told her to try it and if it didn't help her I would pay for it, and before she had taken one bottle she said to me, 'You won't have to pay for it!' It is helping me wonderfully!" And she took three bottles of it. You can use my testimonial if you wish," Mrs. ELSIE ACKERMAN, Convo, Ohio.

SCHOOL SYSTEM IN AMERICA IS BEST IN WORLD

Glory of American Schools Is That They Are Not Centralized

Washington—"Though America's school system is in process of re-adjustment to meet modern needs, and just now is organized by it, to some extent, yet," said United States Commissioner of Education John J. Tigert, "it is the best school system in the world today."

"True, a few countries outdo us in the matter of literacy. With one exception, however, they are small, with homogeneous populations, like Denmark.

"America is vast. Its population is very mixed, including comparatively newly-arrived illiterates from many lands. That these people are uneducated is no fault of American schools.

"The single exception—a county of large population, if of no great area—Germany. But Germany's educational system was much like her military system—highly centralized. Germans were driven to school practically at the bayonet's point. In its final result, this didn't prove very satisfactory.

DEVELOPED POWERFULLY
American education excels in availability. It isn't so strongly compulsory. It can't be so much the latter, because it isn't centralized like Germany's.

"The glory of our schools is that they are not centralized. They have developed powerfully because the communities they were for, wanted them created for themselves and saw to it that they did develop. Their growth was natural, not forced. At first there were communities where public education was opposed. If the federal government had tried to force it on them before they were ready, they would have rebelled. Such a policy wouldn't have promoted education. It would have retarded it.

"The change in education, in our own time, was inevitable.

"Many of us who are not yet old can remember the first electric car, the first incandescent light, the first telephone, the first phonograph, the first automobile, the first airplane. All of us can remember the first radio.

"The old life was simple. Education ran on one track. It was academic, cultural. It was preparatory to colleges of the liberal arts and higher professions.

"Today's education has had to adapt itself to the demands of industry, commerce, agriculture, many sciences—to the preparation of the young for our present complex existence.

MUST WEED OUT STUDIES

"In response to all these new requirements our schools have added more and more studies until, unavoidably, they are less thorough than they were. Many of the additions were indispensable, to make education practical, useful—to make it fit the times. Yet, with such a multiplicity of subjects crowding one another, a careful scrutiny is necessary, and perhaps a weeding out.

"Indeed, this is being done. I doubt if the average individual realizes how highly technical a calling education has become. It was nothing like so much so in the school days of the present-day adult, and few laymen have time to keep in touch with the schoolroom after leaving it themselves. The educator at work suggests the farm expert, watching, testing, experimenting with adjoining patches to determine the relative values of different soils, fertilizers, kinds of seed, temperatures, methods of cultivation, in producing, say, a crop of corn. But needless to say, studying the human mind takes more time."

Chair Protruding From Truck Breaks Car Window

One window of an interurban car was broken at 11:45 Tuesday morning at College-ave and Oneida-st when a chair protruding from a loaded truck struck it. The truck was driven by F. Johnson, route 4 Green Bay, and was heavily laden with household goods. None of the passengers of the car was hurt by the crash.

Passing Car Collides
With Parked Machine

Richard Poyer's automobile was damaged Tuesday night when it was struck by another machine while parked on the highway between Menasha and Oshkosh. Poyer was replacing a punctured tire at the time a passing automobile struck his car in the rear. The damage was only slight and Mr. Poyer was unharmed.

ONE-ARM DRIVER AND GIRL HEAD CAR IN DITCH

Another "one-arm driver" learned a lesson Tuesday afternoon when his car, a Ford coupe, ended an auto-petting party and spilled the driver and his companion in the deep ditch three miles south of Greenville on the Appleton-Greenville rd. The pair was forced to walk the rest of the distance to the village where they obtained the services of a wrecking truck to tow their machine in for repairs. Neither of the occupants was injured, according to an eye witness, but one front wheel was smashed off the car, and the body was badly damaged.

Order Arterial Signs To Guard State Highways

More Traffic Regulation
Signs Are to Be Erected on Streets and Alleys

Arterial highway signs have been ordered placed on all intersections of Cherry and Richmond-sts, but until these two streets have been paved the signs will not be installed, according to information from the city engineer's office. The posts bearing the signs would have to be removed while the pavement was being put down, and during that time no one will be permitted to use the streets.

The board of public works has not yet reached a definite decision on the placing of "no U-turn" "no left-hand turn" and "exit only" signs. It is planned to place signs prohibiting U-turns at every section of College-ave, and two would be needed for each corner.

The board of public works is considering placing signs at each end of several one-way alleys, but Mayor John Goodland, Jr., considers one at the exit sufficient.

The "left-hand turn" signs at the intersection of College-ave and Oneida-st have attracted the attention of the Star Post, a traffic magazine of national repute. The publishers of this magazine have requested R. M. Connally, city engineer, to have photographs made of this corner at their expense, for publication in the magazine.

Attorney General Gives Human Touch To Cabinet

BY HARRY B. HUNT

Washington.—The greatest value of John Garfield Sargent to the Coolidge administration is not likely to be in his administration of the attorney general's office. That is said in full appreciation of the fact that Sargent may make a record of real achievement in that office.

Sargent's real value to the president, however, seems likely to lie in the fact that he brings into the administration picture a picture-esque personality, with a knack of quaint anecdotes and observation.

Not one of the entire cabinet offered a splash of brightness or contrast to relieve the oppressive hues in the picture's composition.

Then along came Sargent. He accentuates the New England tang provided by the president himself. But he brings something besides an accession of Vermont economy and common sense.

He supplies a much-needed seasoning. Whether he supplies also elements of real nourishment, the fact will remain that the salt of his personality will make much more palatable and appetizing the administration menu. The leaven of his good humor, his frankness, his lack of pretense, will do much to relieve the heaviness with which the administration has been threatened.

Up to the time of the Sargent appointment, such color as there was to the Coolidge administration picture was supplied almost wholly by the

In the Midst of Plenty Thousands of Children are Starving

Not starving for food—mind you—of that they get plenty—but simply starving for the want of vitamins and minerals.

So mothers, if any of your loved ones aren't feeling right just ask Schiltz Bros., Downer's Drug Store or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 cents.

They start to help the poor child in just a few days and they'll help you too; for you won't need to worry any more.

One sickly, thin child aged 9 gained 12 pounds in seven months and now plays daily with other children.

Splendid for any run down, weak, skinny, nervous man or woman, thousands of boxes are sold daily—but be sure and ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—the original and genuine. Try them for 30 days and if you aren't delighted with the improvement get your money back.

FEWER DIVORCES IN COUNTY THAN AVERAGE FOR U. S.

10.6 Divorces for Every 100
Marriages in Outagamie-
co Last Year

"Old Daddy" statistics has routed
Dan Cupid, the little rascal of the bow and arrow whose reckless pledging of marital fidelity to countless victims is known far and wide. The fact is, Danny has fooled many a time and oft in the Matrimonial league.

Here are the figures: In Outagamie-co there were 39 divorces to its 367 marriages, or an average of 10.6 divorces to every 100 marriages, last year. That is nothing compared with the record of the state as a whole, for last year there were 2,033 divorces for Wisconsin's 17,277 marriages, or 11.8 divorces to 100 marriages. And that is nothing compared with the nation, for in the same year there were 148,815 divorces to 1,129,045 marriages, or 13.2 per cent. This means that an American has an 8.6 per cent margin for steering the matrimonial bark clear of the rock of disaster.

Records compiled by the United States bureau of census show that in Wisconsin, Milwaukee-co had the largest number of marriages with 5,093, and also the largest number of divorces with 531. Winnebago-co was and second in the number of divorces third in the number of marriages. Outagamie-co was ninth in marriages and thirteenth in divorces.

About one-half of the divorces were granted on the ground of cruelty. The next most prevalent cause was desertion, with neglect to provide, unfaithfulness and drunkenness trailing.

Wisconsin ranked twenty-seventh among the states in the percentage of divorces. Ranked according to smallness of the percentage of divorces, South Carolina leads, for divorcees in that state are no longer known on account of a law enacted in 1878. The highest percentage of divorces was realized in Nevada where divorces outnumbered marriages 1,026 to 935, or 11.0 per cent. This is ascribed to temporary residents attracted by favorable divorce laws. Of the 1,026 divorces in Nevada, 800 were given to temporary residents.

In the United States there were two divorces in which women were complainant to one divorce for men. Cruel and inhuman treatment constituted one-third of the causes, desertion represented one-third, with the next most prevalent causes in the following order: Adultery, neglect to provide, drunkenness, the last mentioned representing about 1 per cent of the total.

USE NOVEL STUNTS TO ADVERTISE H. S. BALL

Odd performances, noted in Appleton high school every afternoon for several days, were explained on this week when a large wooden frame, decorated in black and white, was set up in the main corridor. When the bell rang and the students came rushing out of the classrooms they heard loud heart-rending sobs, and upon investigation discovered two raffled figures standing in the frame, weeping copiously and literally flooding the place with tears. Many were much perturbed over this and were unable to discover the trouble.

A few bright ones, however, decided that since "bowl" and "ball" sound alike, this demonstration referred to the Black and White ball which will be given in the school Friday evening. It will be sponsored by the Clarion and Talisman staffs.

Two heralds stepped inside the frame Tuesday afternoon, and after several trumpet blasts read from a scroll bits of information about the party.

A clever stunt was staged Wednesday morning during assembly period. Pierrots and Pierettes came running from all corners of the room up onto the rostrum, where they played with black and white balls and sang original songs under the direction of a ringmaster. There also were tumbling acts, pantomimes and selections by the high school orchestra.

The ball is to be an all-school party to which alumni have been invited.

A vaudeville program will be presented in addition to the dancing.

Tobacco To Suit Almost Every Taste Is Found On Shelves Of "Smoke Shops"

History relates that when Columbus first landed in Cuba he found the natives inhaling the fumes of a burning weed through a forked reed the two ends of which they inserted in their nostrils while the single end was thrust into the smudge. This reed they called tobacco, and from that name was derived the modern "tobacco." It is doubtful, however, that the natives of Cuba were the first to use the fragrant weed, for some historians declare that the Chinese were familiar with its soothing qualities long before Columbus was born. Be that as it may, it remained for the Anglo-Saxon race to develop the hundreds of blends and mixtures now on the market, which make the tobacco industry one of the greatest in the world.

Sir Walter Raleigh was the first to introduce and plant tobacco in the British Isles. In 1584 he carried seeds and cuttings to his farm in Youghal County Cork, Ireland, to bring his source of supply within easy reach, for Sir Walter was an inveterate smoker and dreaded the possibility of "running out of smoking." Charles II, an early forerunner of Andy Volstead and Pussyfoot Johnson, suppressed the raising of tobacco in England in 1660, but by that time it had gained so large a number of devotees that even the command of a king by divine right was unable to do more than curtail its use. At any rate, since that time it has gained in popularity so that now there are very few men who do not use it in one of its many forms.

ALL RAISE IT

Even in early Colonial days we read of many different qualities and flavors in raw tobaccos and blends. Virginia, Maryland, the Carolinas and Georgia all produced different kinds of tobacco, each of which possessed certain distinct characteristics. From the Atlantic coast states westward to Kentucky and Ohio, and now there is hardly a state in the Union that does not cultivate the weed to some extent.

In mixing the various blends now on the market a number of different kinds of tobacco play the most important part. Among these are burley, perique, latakia, Turkish, Havana, Virginia and Maryland. These are cured in various ways. Some are bundled and hung in sheds to dry in the air, others are smoke dried and still others are hung in the sunlight. In America syrups are added to many of the blends, especially to the cut, while in the English

MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST WILL CLOSE FRIDAY

Public Schools Form Fourth to Eighth Grades in Competition

Kaukauna—The final local music memory contest between Kaukauna school children will take place at 3:30 Friday afternoon in the west assembly room of the high school. Twenty-five percent of the children in each grade who won the highest scores in the preliminary contest several weeks ago will take part. Students in all the grades are showing interest in the event and are making music memory scrap books which assist in planting firmly in their minds the knowledge of selections and their composers. Only students from fourth to eighth grades will take part in the contest.

Miss Lois Chambers and Miss Martha Buelow have been training the third graders but since these children found it difficult to spell the names of many of the selections commonly played, they will not take part in the contest. No individual prizes will be awarded but a bronze plate will be awarded by the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music to the school with the highest average.

The test will be to write the name of a selection being played, name the composer and his nationality. Such pieces as "March Slave," Peter Tchaikovsky, Polish; "First Movement of the Unfinished Symphony," Franz Peter Schubert, Austrian and "Hallelujah Chorus," George Frederick Handel, German, are on the list of 24 classical selections.

The students who will take part will be as follows:

Junior high—eighth grade, Miss Myrtle Rock, teacher; Mabel Look, Orpha Pahl, John Taylor, Andrew Ashe, Wynona Reilly, Marian Hageman, Gordon Nicolson, Dorothy Gorden, Ruth Broucik.

Junior high school—seventh grade, J. J. Haas—Lester Hale, Wilbur Haas, Edna Thiryon, Mildred Smit, Vivian Firehammer, Laura Knickerbocker, Lora Whittner, Mary Boyd, Margaret Weirauch, Kenneth Gerhardt.

Training school, model department, Miss Jenny Peacock in charge—Alice Tretton, Edward Ashe, Betsy Ashe, John Lemke, Marion Lemke, Mary Ellen Krome, Esther Tayron.

Nicole school—sixth grade, Miss Adeline Basing, teacher—Charlotte Hallock, Phyllis Dix, Alta Pahl, Mildred Roerner, Lucile Johnson, Lucy Foagrove, John Smith.

Nicole school—fourth grade—Miss Grace Murphy, teacher—Dorothy Gehr, Margaret Smith, Helen Starke, Hazel Hicks, Joy Deering, Mary Taylor.

Nicole school—fourth grade—Miss Weyauwega, teacher—Lea Sacer, Dolores Licht, Lorraine Pleshek, Paul Balje, Helen Kersten, Russell Smith.

Park school, sixth grade—Miss Lotte Kuder, teacher—Lena Metzen, Geraldine Bussard, Wallace Lamble, Carolyn Smith.

Park school, fifth grade—Miss Onita Kuder, teacher—Rosella Tettin, Vernon Vanderhoof, Ivey Chisek, Leora Hilgenberg.

Park school, fourth grade, Miss Anne Boehm, teacher—Wilma Jirkovich, Gretchen Krahn, Mabel Hilgenberg, Dorothy Terry and Anita Saenger.

W. C. O. F. PRESENTS GIFT TO HIGH OFFICER

Kaukauna—Mrs. F. M. Schmidt, who was installed Wednesday evening as chief ranger of Sacred Heart council No. 555, Womens Catholic Order of Foresters, was presented with a pearl necklace as a gift from the court for long and faithful service. Mrs. Schmidt began her eleventh year as chief ranger. Other officers installed were Mrs. Anna Hartzheim, vice chief ranger; Mrs. Catherine Landermann, recording secretary; Mrs. Narcissa Nytes, financial secretary; Lorraine Perry, treasurer; Hannah Mayner, Anna Anderson and Mary Wolt, trustees; Loretta Heinz and Augusta Goetzman, conductors; Susanna Penn and Elizabeth Brill, sentinels. About 50 ladies attended the meeting.

Kaukauna—The funeral of James Golden of Hollandtown was held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning from the New Louis Van Oosteren in charge. It was the largest funeral ever held in Hollandtown for a number of years. Bearers were Edward Golden, Leo Golden, John Golden, Richard Golden, Floyd Maloney and Clem Cox.

Zierke, Editor Of Press, Quits His Job

New London—Victor Zierke, editor of the New London Press, resigned his position Wednesday. He was to leave New London on Thursday evening for his home at Princeton, where he intends to spend a few days before taking up his new work as editor of the Reedsburg Times.

Onida Personal—We wish to thank neighbors and friends for the kind assistance during the illness and death of our dear Mr. and Mrs. James Journeay and Clifton Luttrell of West Allis, who are now recovering and for the social offerings. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac M. Cornelia, Andrew Cornelius has moved his family to West Allis.

STILL NO ACTION ON STARTING BOY SCOUT COUNCIL

Kaukauna—Very little was accomplished at the meeting of the organization committee for Boy Scouts held Wednesday evening in the council chambers as only six of the twelve members attended. The absence of half the committee does not indicate lack of interest, however, for at least four of those absent were out of the city on business. Those present talked over the situation and it is apparent the movement will grow once it has been started.

A permanent chairman was to have been elected but that also was held over until the next meeting, which will be held in the council chambers next Tuesday evening. Due to the fact the council meets the same evening the scout committee will call the meeting at 7 o'clock.

Allege Farmer At Fremont Had Still Operating

State Dry Squad Makes Raid at Grant McClellan Place—Must Go to Court

Fremont—State prohibition officers raided the Grant McClellan farm, two miles east of Fremont, in search for moonshine Saturday. A still was said to have been found in operation by a hired man and a large quantity of moonshine and mash was said to have been found. McClellan will appear in circuit court at Waupaca.

The annual meeting of Fremont Volunteer Fire department for election of officers was held at the village hall Monday evening. The customary social function at the annual meeting was postponed to a later date because of the small number of members present. The officers reelected for 1925 are: Chief, Paul R. Kohls; assistant chief, Roland Weil; secretary, George Sherburne; treasurer, C. H. Johnson; Lieutenant, Carl Koch; engine captain, Arnold Sader; captain of the hook and ladder, John Yankee; captain of the hose, Edwin Sader.

Out Goes All Rheumatic Poison

Rheuma Act on Kidneys, Liver and Bladder the Very First Day

Get a bottle of Rheuma today and wear a satisfied smile on your face tomorrow.

It's a remedy that is astonishing the whole country and it's just as good for gout, sciatica, lumbago and kidney misery as for rheumatism.

It drives the poison and waste from the joints and muscles—that's the secret of Rheuma's success.

But we don't ask you to take our word for it. Go to Schlitz Bros. or any good druggist and get a bottle of Rheuma today. If it doesn't do as we promise, get your money back. It will be there waiting for you.

WAUPACA LODGE VOTES TO BUILD HALL ADDITION

Masons Will Add to Building to Provide Enough Room for Social Activities

Waupaca—Waupaca Lodge No. 123 of the Masonic order, at a regular meeting Tuesday night, voted to enlarge its present building on Main Street, extending it to the alley. Work is to commence as soon as possible. Plans which are likely to be adopted will give the lodge a hall for social purposes 50 by 50 feet in addition to the present arrangement.

This proposition has been discussed for a number of years as the lodge was handicapped for lack of proper place for social functions. The lodge room proper is adequate for lodge purposes and will not be changed. The probable cost may exceed $10,000 before the addition is complete and finished.

The lodge occupies the upper floor of the building and in addition leases the second floor of the building occupied by Hannon Jewelry company. The Star bakery and Stratton drug store, are on the ground floor of the Masonic building and will be enlarged. The committee appointed to handle building operations consists of Frank Lear, A. E. Woody and J. A. Peterson.

About 20 who are interested in highway work, mostly members of the county highway commission and highway patrolmen, auted to Wisconsin Rapids where representatives of nine other counties in this section of the state gathered to hear a speaker from the state highway office and to enjoy a social time.

Walter Radley of Wisconsin Veterans Home, was arrested by Traffic Officer Arthur Hewitt and paid a fine of ten dollars and costs, in addition to the cost of a license in Justice Holst's court Tuesday.

Street car service to Wisconsin

Veterans Home scheduled to start April 15 was not in operation Wednesday so the public going this route used the bus service which continues to function as usual.

Boy scout troop No. 2 under the leadership of Scoutmaster Seth Ballard with headquarters at the Baptist church, went on a hike to the lakes starting at noon Wednesday. The boys carried rations to make supper in the open that evening. The afternoon was spent playing baseball and the hike home was made at the close of the day.

CICERO SCHOOL GIVES PROGRAM ON FRIDAY

Seymour—Cicero state graded school will give a miscellaneous entertainment program at the schoolhouse Friday evening April 17. The amusements are in charge of a committee appointed by the Parent-teachers association, composed of George Tubbs, Irene Olin, Edna Jaeger, Ellen Mueller, Mrs. H. Marks and August Burmeister. Lunch will be served.

STAGE And SCREEN

BRENDEL IS KNOWN AS "THAT FUNNY SWEDIE"

When the latest edition of the New York Winter Garden series of "Passing Shows" comes to the Appleton theater on May 20, Appleton theatergoers will have the opportunity of getting acquainted with a well known comedian who, by some strange freak of booking chances, has seldom been seen outside of New York and the largest cities. He is El Brendel, who with his partner, Flo Bert, and George Price and Margaret Brean, head the cast of one hundred people seen in the revue.

El Brendel is almost as well known on Broadway as the 42nd Street corner. He is essentially a pantomimist but does not rely entirely on dumb show for his laughs although he recently admitted that his aim is to star in some show in the future in which he will never say a word.

Brendel essays a Swedish characterization and is often referred to on Broadway as "that funny Swede," although, as a fact, he has no Swedish blood in his veins. He laughingly declares that he is a failure in such cities as Minneapolis, for the Scandinavian population there sees nothing funny in the way he dresses or talks.

A Philadelphian by birth, Brendel started on the stage as a German comedian but changed his characterization to Swedish a few years ago and while he had met with success as a German comedian, he became a feature performer almost overnight as a "Swede."

FUN AND THRILLS IN "WAY OF A GIRL"

Eleanor Boardman makes her debut as a screen comedienne in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "The Way of a Girl," which opened last night at the Elite Theatre for an engagement of 3 days. After appearing in such pictures as "Wife of the Centaur" and "So This Is Marriage," Miss Boardman, in "The Way of a Girl," demonstrates her versatility by playing comedy with sparkling gaiety and nerve.

"The Way of a Girl" itself is a distinct addition to motion pictures. It is a unique combination of comedy and melodrama, and is enhanced with some of the most spectacular scenes on the screen in recent months.

For sheer beauty of photography, we have seen nothing in recent months to compare with the prize right scenes. Robert G. Vignola, the director, and his cameraman, J. Arnold, are to be congratulated for the tremendous suggestion of great crowds given in the mysterious lighting.

Besides Miss Boardman, the cast includes Matt Moore, William Fuscus and Mathew Betz. "The Way of a Girl" was adapted by Albert Shelly Le Vino from the novel by Katherine Newlin Burt.

THE CALL OF THE WILD Although many of Jack London's popular stories have been filmed, it remained for Hal Roach to put on the screen what the majority of critics consider his best work. This is "The Call of the Wild," which caused such a furor in literary circles some years ago. London, himself, is a tremendously interesting figure.

Jack London was born in San Francisco, July 12, 1876. His father was a professor of psychology at the University of California, and his mother was a talented musician. At the age of 20, after attending the University of California for two years, he shipped before the mast to Alaska during the gold rush and never completed his course in school.

After the rush for gold was over he returned to California and made up his mind to devote his time to writing. He did this for more than a year, but did not succeed in selling any of his brain children until he wrote "The Call of the Wild." It was this story of a dog's return to the primitive that paved the way to fame for London.

London died in 1916 in San Francisco after living one of the most varied careers of any known man.

"The Call of the Wild," showing at the Appleton Theatre Sunday features Buck, a huge St. Bernard. The cast includes Jack Mulhall, Walter Long, Laura Roessing, Frank Butler and Sydney D'Albrook. Fred Jackman adapted the story to the screen and directed it. It's a Pathépicture.

AUSTRIAN SLUMP MAKES PEDDLERS OF BANK CLERKS

Hundreds of Professional Men Turn to Common Labor When Law Forbids Entering Trades

By Associated Press
Vienna—The hosts of cripples who for years after the war molested the frequenters of Vienna cafes and restaurants for alms have of late diminished in number. The majority of them contracted consumption from exposure and have died.

The places, however, of these mendicants have been taken by hundreds from among the thousands of bank-clerks who lost their jobs as a result of the failures of many little banks and the reduction of the staffs of the remainder.

The number of banks in Vienna began to increase with the issue of each successive loan during the World war and broke all records (one bank to every 1,000 inhabitants) for a country with only 6,500,000 population when the period of inflation was at its height. At this time many hundreds of students at colleges and universities were talked over into abandoning their studies and accepting handsomely paid situations in the dozens of banks cropping up every week.

The financial slump of the past summer deprived these youths of their positions with the result that they are now to be met in every possible nook and corner seeking relief. Some are learning to become chauffeurs or are conductors on streetcars, while a great many spend the day hawking note books, pencils, calendars and even matches in cafes and restaurants. All of them are men of higher education but this avails them naught. Four thousand of them were let out during the last four months and many more are to be discharged with the beginning of 1925.

The government has been petitioned to contribute funds towards the erection of sheds wherein these men may find shelter when rendered homeless. What makes their lot in Austria most distressing is that there is not the ghost of a chance for any of them to get new berths in banks. Business is at a standstill. Then the Austrian laws forbid any man to work at any trade to which he has not been apprenticed. This makes it impossible for these unfortunate to do anything but hawk goods or sweep the streets. But both of these occupations likewise are crammed full.

Miss Catherine McCarthy visited the home of her parents in Grand Chute Easter.

Thomas Hill submitted to an operation Monday at St. Elizabeth hospital for the removal of his tonsils.

The Weather

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Fair tonight, followed by increasing cloudiness Friday. Slightly warmer tonight in southwest portion.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
High pressure covered the entire eastern portion of the country this morning, with generally fair and rather cool weather. This is expected to continue to influence the weather in this section tonight and Friday, with generally fair weather. Lower pressure is recorded from the Rocky Mountains eastward. This is causing some cloudiness eastward over the western states. It may cause some cloudiness in this section by Friday and Friday night, with a tendency for the temperature to rise slightly.

A. A. U. W. GETS APPLETION PAGE IN ALUMNI BOOK

At the national convention of the American Association of University Women held in Indianapolis last week, a Founder's book was exhibited, a page or two of which was given to each chapter quota of the expense of the building recently erected at Washington, D. C. had been met.

The page of the Appleton group was designed by Marjorie Neller of Appleton, college student. In the design was a representation of the Memorial Chapel with the elms around, representative of the city, college, and embodying the idea of the University Women. The Appleton branch met its quota of $750 or $14 a member.

Mrs. Marie Louis Brown, dean of college women, was the delegate of the Appleton branch at the convention.

HEAR GEN. LORD SPEAK ON U. S. ECONOMY PLAN

Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and Kenneth Corbett were in Green Bay Wednesday evening to attend the banquet given for Gen. H. M. Lord, director of the United States budget at Washington. About 500 persons were present.

Gen. Lord's subject was The Nation's Business. He told how expenditures of the government had been a hit-or-miss procedure for many years until the budget system finally was adopted. The aim now is to run the government on three billion dollars a year.

BUILDING PERMITS

ALDERMEN MEET TAXPAYERS ON RADII PROBLEM

MAYOR NAMES COMMITTEE TO STUDY CORNERS

Want Washington-st and Soldiers Square Widened for Parking Purposes

Aldermen Wenzel Hassman, Mike Steinbauer and George Richard were appointed by Mayor John Goodland Jr., Wednesday night to represent the city council on a committee of Third and Fifth ward property owners to examine street intersections and make recommendations regarding the method of calculating corner radii. The three aldermen also were named to appear before the county board and the state highway commission to seek further state and county aid for the paving of Richmond and Cherry-sts.

This action was taken on motion of Alderman Richards who at the last meeting of the council introduced a remonstrance from taxpayers on Richmond and Cherry-sts protesting against 30 foot radii. After the motion had been introduced, it was voted to refer it to the committee of the whole, which recommended the appointment of the committee of three aldermen. The afternoon of April 16 was set as the date for the examination of corner radii, and at 2 o'clock on that day the aldermen will meet with the committee of taxpayers for that purpose.

OFF PAVING PROGRAM

Petition of Ida-st residents to strike their street from the 1925 paving program was granted an motion of Alderman C. D. Thompson, and a motion by Alderman Steinbauer to instruct the city engineer to make plans for the widening of Washington-st three feet on each side between Durkee and Superior-sts was referred to the street and bridge committee for investigation.

Alderman Steinbauer's original motion brought an objection from Charles Fose, who foresaw trouble in widening the street, and requested that the matter of costs be investigated before definite action is taken. The motion was amended after a short discussion. Mr. Steinbauer also introduced a motion to constitute Soldiers square opposite the city hall a public parking place, and to widen it three feet for that purpose. Alderman Steinbauer suggested that this would be an ideal place for busses to park, and would keep them away from the various street corners now used. He moved that the street and bridge committee be instructed to confer on this matter with the park board, and the motion was referred to the street and bridge committee.

MOVE MONUMENT

Mr. Steinbauer also suggested that the soldiers monument be removed to Pierce park, saying he had spoken to several veterans who also favored this move.

A motion by R. F. McGilligan to widen the sidewalk south of the S. Oneida-st railway crossing was referred to the street and bridge committee.

Alderman Charles Fose introduced a motion to make improvements at the municipal swimming pool, which, he said, was in a very dilapidated condition. He suggested that a brick wall be constructed in place of the board fence now surrounding the pool, the new wall to be of the same style and appearance as the pumping station. Mr. Fose suggested that a part of this work be done each year until completed. His motion was referred to the public grounds and buildings committee.

WABENO BANK ROBBERS FILE PARDON PLEA

By Associated Press
Wabeno—Formal notice of intention to file the application for pardon with Gov. Blaine on May 6 has been circulated here by Chalmers Yeager, sentenced Sept. 21, 1921, to 25 years in the state prison at Waupun for robbing the state bank of Wabeno.

The daring daylight holdup, the pursuit of the bandits, the wrecking of the bandit car and the ensuing man hunt through the woods are vividly recalled here by the pardon application.

Though the loot, amounting to about $25,000, was not retrieved, the bank weathered the severe financial sheet and is now housed in a new building here.

School Heads Of County Are Kept On Jump

This week is one of the busiest in a large time for members of the county educational staff. Speaking tours and judging contests will occupy the time of every member.

COUNCIL ORDERS MACHINE TO MARK PARKING LIMITS

Aldermen Refuse to Give Street Employees Saturday Afternoon Holidays

The city council authorized the purchase of a street marking machine Wednesday night on recommendation of the street and bridge committee. The machine will cost $150 and will be used to mark parking limits and street crossings, as well as the middle of paved streets.

Applications for the installation of sewers on Mason st., Wisconsin-ave., Fourth-st and Morrison-st were granted, but the council disallowed the petition of Weimar st. residents for a sewer.

The council vetoed an application by the street department employees for Saturday afternoons off during the summer, with full pay.

An amendment to ordinance 269, changing the number of members required for a quorum on the board of public works from 4 to 3, was adopted and an amendment to ordinance 237, referring to the regulation of traffic on streets and alleys, was passed.

The finest Essex ever built

Never Before Such Quality
at or Near the Price

Today's Essex is the finest ever built. It is the smoothest, most reliable Essex ever built. It is the best looking, most comfortably riding Essex ever built. And the price, because of volume, is the lowest at which Essex ever sold.

Its overwhelming public acceptance confirms by actual sales supremacy the outstanding leadership of Essex value. Never was that position so clear, and so rightly deserved as today.

Essex won its great recognition on the issue of finest quality, performance and utility without useless size, weight or cost.

And with its low first cost and operating economies, you get qualities of long-lasting, reliable performance, smoothness and riding ease.

Essex requires little attention to keep in top condition. Its maintenance cost, we believe, is the lowest of any car in the world. You sacrifice no motoring pleasure, comfort or good looks that large, high-priced cars can give. Essex is nimble of action. It is easily handled in crowded traffic, responsive to every call for power or speed. And with it you know all the satisfaction that comes with its distinction as a fine and beautiful car.

Can any other car within hundreds of dollars of the price satisfy you so well?

Poor Diction Blamed For Voice Ills

BY ROY J. GIBBONS

Chicago—To the modern girl—be aware! Your keynot beauty speech has taken on an unusual note.

Modern life is responsible. The telephone, cigarettes, incessant small talk and synthetic sin are accused.

A frightened frog is creeping down a good many feminine throats, says Charles Marshall.

Marshall makes his observations with an artist's critical eye. He has been called the world's greatest operatic tenor—a "second Caruso"—for his singing with the Chicago Grand Opera Company.

He attributes most of the voice imperfections of today to faulty and slovenly diction.

AVOID CONTRACTIONS

And he passes on these tips to correct speech defections:

"Avoid contractions if your voice would be pleasant to the ear.

"Don't say such things as 'Teah' for 'tea' and 'goin' for 'going.'

"Carry over your vowels and pronounce all your consonants.

"Ellision and vulgarisms of expression produce a psychological laziness on the organs of speech.

"To have a charming voice pronounce each word distinctly. Speak a tone higher than you are accustomed to. Don't screech, but merely pitch your voice up another notch, so to say."

"Speak carefully and try talking from the diaphragm up instead of merely from the throat up. Try deep breathing exercises."

RECALLS GRANDMA

Marshall calls attention to the days of our grandmothers when women had pleasant, modulated voices and the soft trembling whisper.

"Of what avail are trim ankles and a pretty face when a strident sound escape from lips otherwise fair?" he asks.

Ten years ago Marshall was singing successfully in the leading European opera houses.

He was then known as Carlo Marzilli, for he found when he went to Italy from Maine to study music that he gained more in the national school for opera with an Italian name.

He returned to America and became a voice teacher in Philadelphia. In 1920 the Chicago Grand Opera Company engaged him to sing Otello.

"And when my big chance came to sing, I made up my mind I would appear as a real American. I returned to the name of Marshall."

VOICE BETTER THAN BEAUTY

Marshall urges those anxious to study music to place themselves under American teachers, "for there is none better in Europe than may be had in our largest cities," he says.

"Girls and young women especially should realize that voice culture is perhaps, more essential than face enchanting," he warns.

But yet, many of our women talk with rasping sound, a great frog has settled in their throats.

"No beauty is strong enough to offset such a condition."

FASHION HINTS

BORDERED CHIFFONS

Bordered crepes and chiffons were never lovelier, and they are easily adapted to the present day styles.

LOVELY COAT LINING

A lovely coat lining is of hand-blocked crepe in dull gold and purple.

POLKA DOTS POPULAR

Polka dots of all sizes are fashionable this year and some of the smartest silks and chiffons use many different sizes to give an irregular effect.

NEAT COMBINATION

White crepe and crystal or rhinestone beads is a combination, we find again and again and it is always attractive.

DANCING FROCKS

Chiffon and georgette crepes are both very smart. Chiffon is used mostly for dancing frocks for evening, while georgette is used for afternoon and for ensembles as well.

SMALL PANEL DECORATION

If the walls are divided into panels, and there are two narrow panels on either side of a large one, as over a fireplace or at a doorway, the small panels may be decorated as shown here. A small picture in each is enough, and if there are two scenes as those shown here, they are made even more decorative.

Hat Matches Costume

Will Jackie Be A Star When He's A Man?

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

NEA Service Writer

New York—A critical period in the professional life of Jackie Coogan is at hand—that uncertain time between babyhood and adolescence which has eliminated many promising juveniles from the screen.

There is no doubt about Coogan's survival. But soon he will be Jack instead of Jackie. And soon his Dutch bob will be clipped. From then on he will have to depend upon his abilities as an actor, on his individual merits, rather than upon his roles during the next few years will have to be very carefully selected.

At present there seems to be some debate on the part of his producers whether to direct his appeal to children or to adults, primarily.

Occasionally a story can be found which enthralls young and old alike, but they are rare, and Jackie has had only one or two of these.

First showing of his latest, "The Rag Man," have been keenly enjoyed by adults, but haven't been so enthusiastically received by youngsters. Men and women catch its fine shades of pathos and humor. For boys and girls there is lack of grip to the story, containing many elements of little concern to childish imagination. In this respect, "The Rag Man" just reverses "Little Robinson Crusoe," which fairly made youngsters crawl with thrills and dread and conquests.

Coogan is quite capable of either role—one offering mischief and tenderness for the tearful chuckles of oldsters, or one providing mischievous heroes for those of his own age. But to carry the brunt of the frock is yellow and the skirt and handings are of yellow and brown plaid. The hat has a plain yellow crown and a plaid brim turned up from the face.

To match the hat and costume is one of fashion's whims this year, and it is most effective as you can see by this photograph. The upper part of the frock is yellow and the skirt and handings are of yellow and brown plaid. The hat has a plain yellow crown and a plaid brim turned up from the face.

The golden age, financially, for Jackie's promoters is probably past, at least on the wane. It is unlikely that the boy will be given another contract of quite so fabulous figure.

The mention of sausage may bring to mind a favorite among many dozen kinds, but to most of us it suggests one of winter's most popular meats.

For home cooking, ground pork sausage, bought by the pound or ground at home, not only serves as a dish unto itself, but also furnishes flavor and zest to a number of other food combinations. Prepared as small cakes and fried, then served piping hot with waffles or griddle cakes, it always brings up a hungry thought on a crisp, cold day.

Either pork alone is used for the sausage, or it is combined with beef, veal, or some other meat. There are many who prefer hamburger with a little ground pork added. The seasonings are important, but there is sometimes danger of adding so much that the delicate flavor of the pork is lost. The type of seasoning used will depend upon whether pork is to be used alone or combined with other foods.

Those who have not discovered the many uses for ground pork or small sausages will appreciate the following recipes:

Sausage in Blanket

Brown the sausages in the frying pan, and cool them; cover each link with leftover mashed potato, roll them in flour and brown them in a pan in the oven for about 12 minutes. Add the following to the sausage fat in the pan: Four tablespoons flour, then brown it; two small minced onions, three or four tablespoons catsup, one and three-fourths cups water, and seasoning to taste. Cook slowly for five minutes, stirring to blend well. Lay the sausages on freshly made toast, and pour the gravy over them.

Sausage Surprise

Make a good baking-powder biscuit dough. Roll it out and cut it into biscuits a half-inch thick. Place the sausages link on each biscuit, fold the dough over, pinching the edges together; brush the tops with milk, and bake the biscuits in a hot oven for 20 minutes.

Pork Sausage Stuffing

The following proportions will make sufficient dressing for a 12-pound turkey. For smaller birds, use quantities in proportion to weight. Combine six cups of stale bread crumbs, one and a half cups of pork sausage, one small minced onion, one and one-half tablespoons of salt, two tablespoons of finely chopped parsley, juice of one lemon, one teaspoon of poultry seasoning. Mix these in the order given, moisten the mixture with a little water or stock if necessary to hold it together, and stuff the turkey, not too tightly.

Vegetables With Sausage Stuffing

The bread stuffing with sausage already given can be used for such vegetables as pumpkins, tomatoes and cabbage. To vary the recipe, use parboiled rice in place of the bread crumbs. Part beef, veal or ham with the pork makes an excellent stuffing for those who prefer a little less fat.

Baked Apples with Sausage

Clean and core large apples suitable for baking. Insert into each a small sausage which has first been partly browned, and bake the apples until they are soft and transparent. They may be served as part of the main course for breakfast, lunch or supper.

No Faltering In Interest Among
Bible Scholars

Children Still Are Enthusiastic
Over Instruction in Religion

The attendance at the week day school of religious education has not faltered little since it opened in the fall, and now toward the end of the school season, enthusiasm is excellent among the 200 students who are enrolled. Dr. J. R. Denyes of Lawrence college conducts the school, which is maintained by Protestant churches. Children are allowed time from their school work to attend and absences are reported back to the school. A separate system of marking is maintained, however.

The teachers include Dr. Denyes, Mrs. Denyes, Mrs. H. K. Pratt, Mrs. C. E. Wagner, Mrs. Earl Baker, Donald James and Miss Marie Finger.

The pupils are taken through the Bible by an historical approach in order that they may have an idea of the growth of the religious idea, Dr. Denyes said. By this method the children are shown the growth of religion from the primitive man to the present time.

No plans have been made by any of the churches for a vacation Bible school, and while Dr. Denyes probably will not be able to take charge this summer, he hopes that a union system may be instituted, for by this method he declares many more courses may be offered, there is unity among the students and the cost is less, as one staff of teachers can take care of a larger group of students.

C. OF C. WILL ELECT

People Notice It. Drive Them
Off with Dr. Edwards'
Olive Tablets

A simply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull listless "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or simply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 1pc and 3pc.

Miss Buchanan In Forensic Contest

Represents Appleton High
School in Fox Valley Declamatory Contest

Miss Josephine Buchanan will represent Appleton high school in the Fox River Valley league declamatory contest at West high school in Green Bay Friday afternoon. Her reading will be "The Lord's Prayer" by Francois Coppee, with which she won second place in the local contest. Clarence Weiss was winner of first place in the local contest, but since the league event is open to girls only, Miss Buchanan will represent the school.

Miss Ruth McKeon, who coached the contestants in the local declamatory contest, will accompany Miss Buchanan to Green Bay.

Other schools that will be represented are East and West high school of Green Bay, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Manitowoc, Marinette and Sheboygan.

The judges will be O. H. Pleunke, superintendent of city schools of Menasha, C. F. Hedges, superintendent of the city schools of Neenah and Mr. Silvernail, superintendent of Menominee schools.

First, second and third place winners will receive winged victory medals cast in gold for the first place, silver for second and bronze for third. The prizes were made available through the generosity of West high school of Green Bay.

The Speech Arts club of West high school will give a reception and tea for the contestants and their coaches after the contest.

The Fox River Valley league oratorical contest was won by Herman Brockhaus of Appleton high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sterns of Rockford, Ill., are visiting Neenah relatives.

Clifford Petton of Elgin, Ill., and James Doyle organist in the Apollo theatre in Washington, D. C., are guests of Lavern Petton, West Forester.

Miss Corrine Broeren has returned from a visit with relatives in Holland town.

Appeal From Award Earnings
$2,000 Raise

It was worth more than $2,000 to Herman Sombke and about $100 to Fred Hoepner to appeal from the decision of the condemnation board which fixed the amount they should be paid for land wanted by the city of Appleton for the extension of N. Union st.

Mr. Sombke was awarded $7,000 by a jury in circuit court Tuesday afternoon for his property and Mr. Hoepner was Wednesday afternoon granted $100 following the hearing on their appeals by Judge Edgar V. Werner.

The city of Appleton brought condemnation proceedings against the two property owners to obtain land for street widening. The appraisal board granted $4,740 to Mr. Sombke and $1 to Mr. Hoepner. The owners refused to accept these amounts and filed their appeals. The former's was won on N. Union st near 12th Wisconsin Avenue and the latter's on 12th Bradford and Bradford appeared for the property owners and A. C. Bosser, city attorney, for the city.

Rickenbacher
A CAR WORTHY OF ITS NAME

Performance

"Velvet"—exclaimed a customer of long experience with fine automobiles, when first he felt the even flow of power in this Rickenbacher Six.

"Velvety," is the only term that expresses the running qualities and the riding characteristics of this Rickenbacher.

Crank-shaft, held in seven extra-large bearings. Shaft, itself, extra large—so there is no whip.

Then the other Rickenbacher features—two fly-wheels and accurately profiled cylinder heads—all combine to eliminate vibration.

Here you have tremendous power with not the slightest evidence of exertion. It's a grateful relief to the nerves to sense the smoothness of this motor.

The chassis and body possess similar qualities.

The rigid "double depth" frame—cradle springs and finally the deep, luxurious upholstering, make this a wonderfully comfortable and restful car in which to ride.

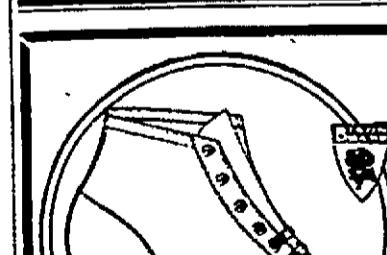

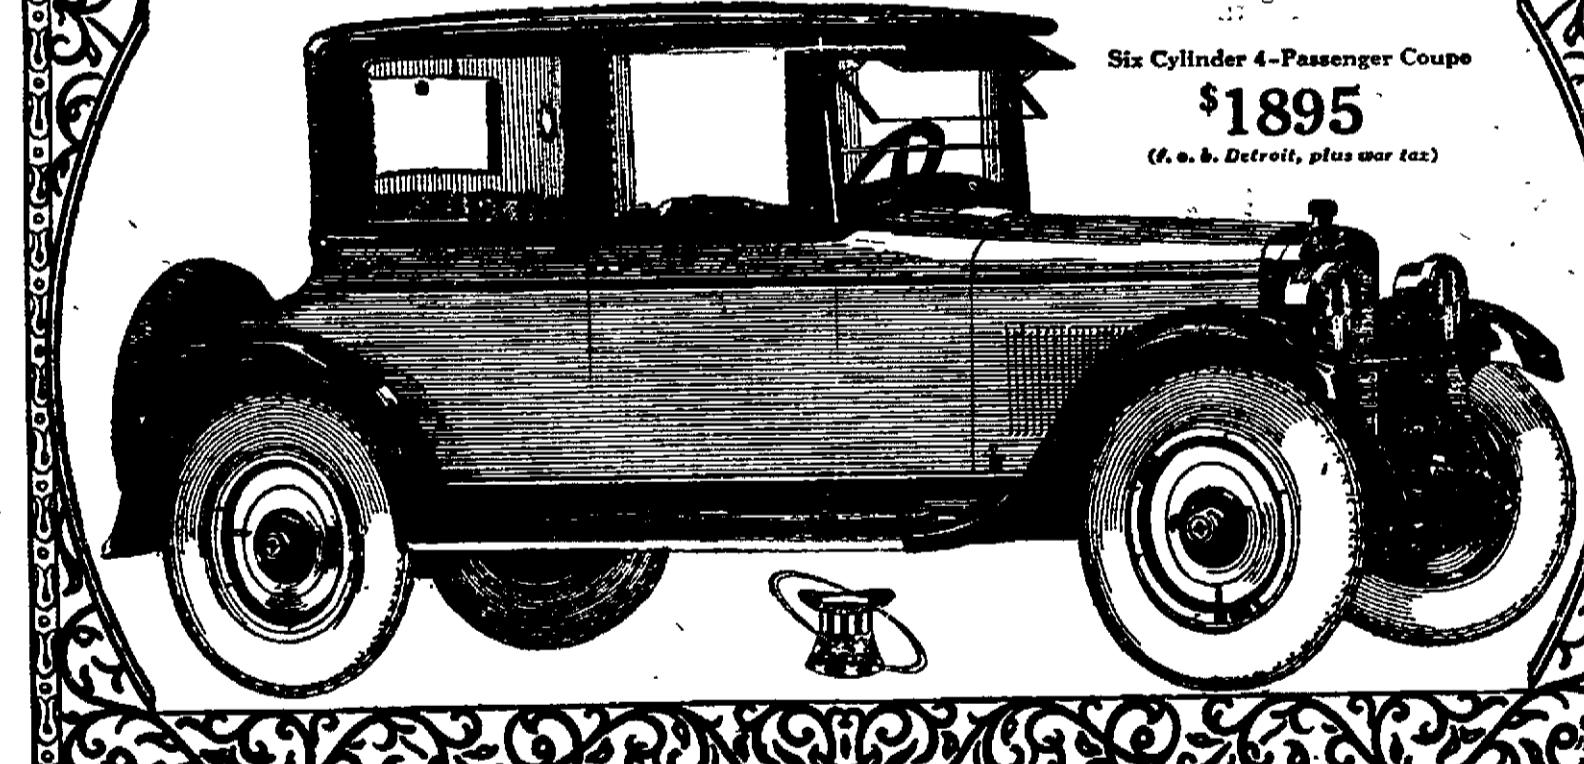

In all round performance—in power, acceleration, speed, hill-climbing, and finally in its ability to decelerate rapidly, but smoothly—with its wonderful 4-wheel brakes—this Rickenbacher Six has, we verily believe, no equal at its price—and no superior at any price.

Drive this Rickenbacher Six yourself—it will be a revelation to you.

Historical Club Rekindles Memory Of Steve Douglas

Research Proves That Abraham Lincoln and His Political Rival Were Good Friends

By Associated Press
Springfield, Ill.—Tracing a staunch friendship that continued, in spite of their political differences, as long as they both lived, the Illinois Historical Society has published a life of Stephen A. Douglas, which forges a new link to bind together the memories and fame of Lincoln and Douglas. It was prepared by Frank E. Stevens of Sycamore, Ill.

Mr. Stevens related that when Lincoln was to be inaugurated in Washington, the first time, "it was intimated that Mrs. Lincoln was to be snubbed by Washington society absenting itself. Douglas, a social favorite, let it be known at once that the Douglass would undertake to spoil the little plot and to the utmost of his ability he did, by escorting Mrs. Lincoln to the ballroom upon his arm.

"But the crowning manifestation of that sincere friendship was exhibited quietly, almost innocently at the delivery of Lincoln's inauguration speech, when Lincoln ascending the rostrum of steps, awkwardly enough, was looking for a place to lay his tall silk hat. Douglas noticed the embarrassment, and as though expected of him, he reached for it and held it during the delivery of the speech, to which he listened intently.

"It was the speech of his friend and neighbor; his great and successful rival, and in it he felt an interest which he manifested by frequent nods of approval and such exclamations as 'Good!' 'That's fair!' 'No backing out there!' That's a good point!'

"What a reversal of fortune! Lincoln in 1856 sweetly, pathetically, allying to the giddy heights Douglas had reached—now Douglas holds the hat of his humble rival of other days!

"It was a tender little tribute which could come only from a friendship strong and enduring, born amidst the happy hardships of rude pioneer life,

Simple Application That Dissolves Blackheads

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blemishes, blackheads. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them out and that is to dissolve them. Get about two ounces of calonite powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds—wash the parts and every blackhead will be gone.

Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of calonite powder and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition.

ZYBSZKO BEATS BIG MUNN TO REGAIN WORLD TITLE

Lewis' Conqueror, Sick With Tonsilitis, Loses Two Falls To Great Pole

Former Title-holder Regains Crown by Throwing Nebraskan Twice in 14 Minutes

Philadelphia, Pa.—Stanislaus Zybszko, 58-year-old veteran, again rules the world as champion of wrestlers. He regained the title he lost several years ago by conquering Wayne (Big) Munn, Wednesday night in two straight falls and in less than 14 minutes of actual wrestling. A cleverly executed forearm hold earned the first fall for the veteran who scored the second fall with a forearm and hammerlock.

Zybszko exhibited the same mad prowess against his more youthful opponent that brought him the championship years ago and clearly demonstrated that Munn's great strength was no match for the science of the master grappler. Reaching only to the shoulders of the giant westerner and weighing about fifty pounds less, Zybszko wriggled away every time Munn tried to obtain his favorite crook hold and easily broke away when he attempted a jiu jitsu. Then, watching his opportunity, Zybszko gained a body hold, lifted his opponent high in the air and hurled him to the floor, pinning his shoulders to the mat a few seconds later. After the intermission he repeated the performance and soon had Munn on his back in the grip the restored him to the heavyweight crown.

After the clout, club physicians who examined Munn said he was suffering from acute tonsilitis and that he had fainted during the intermission between the first and second falls. The doctors said he had no fever when they examined him before the match.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Fine work Mabel, dear! Only don't accuse my old pal Rollo of the dirty work, it came from Wahoo, 25. We're glad our column has two readers and we also wish to say right here we are much interested in Appleton high school's success ourselves. So the more contests the better. We also agree on the spring football proposition. Every school in the valley gets the jump on the best in the valley in this way. Kevin should handle tracks as we believe it as important, or should be, as football and basketball. But the old grid vets who graduate this year could handle the preliminary work well. They have had about three years of it under Denny, Wilson and Kevin, and surely could teach fundamentals. Men like Ted Bleier, Hieble, Voecks and others. In fact one of these boys suggested it to us the other day without being asked! It's kinda late this year, but let's hear from all of you on this anyway.

LAST CALLS SHUNTED OUT OF FIRST PLACE

The Miss Fitz bowling team rolled into first place in the second day's play of the Menasha City Bowling Tournament Tuesday night, dropping 2865 pins to take the lead from the Last Calls. GRADE SCHOOLS FORM LEAGUE FOR BASEBALL

Representatives of six city grade schools met with Don Gebhardt, assistant physical director of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday afternoon to make preliminary plans for the Grade School Baseball League which will be started soon. The schools represented were First Ward, Lincoln, Third Ward, Fourth Ward, Columbus and Franklin.

Chicago and Detroit collaborated in a canival of clouting, and the tigers, with a majority of one, could not win because the six pitchers they called to the slab failed to check the batsman's fire of their foes. The soot took the game at 9 to 6.

The Athletics wasted most of their 5 hits off Fullerton and Ruffing, leaving 11 base runners stranded, but the five men they brought home were enough to defeat the Red Sox 5 to 3.

The Washington Senators, in six inning game, evened their series with the Yankees by shelling the curves of the Yankees by shelling the curves of

Walker via a keyo in the eighth inning. Final game will be announced within the next few days.

Each school has a wealth of good material and an interesting race is looked for. Don Gebhardt, who has handled the league for the last few years, again is in charge.

Trial of Suit to Recover
$400

The case of William Plantikow vs Henry Wolk, charged with giving promissory notes of a third party, which he knew were valueless, to the plaintiff in payment for a team of horses, was heard by Judge A. M. Spencer in Municipal court on Thursday.

The defendant it is alleged in the complaint, bought a team of horses valued at $455 from Plantikow, giving $55 in cash and two notes of Martin Diderich of Brown co for $200 at 7 per cent interest. The plaintiff charged that Diderich was unknown to him, but that Wolk had declared the Brown-co man was "good" for the notes because he owned considerable real estate and personal property. When the notes fell due neither the defendant nor Diderich could pay and investigation showed that Diderich had not been able to pay for several years.

Plantikow said Wolk never had been able to collect from Diderich on the notes, either personally or through an attorney and that he had known Diderich's condition when he gave the notes to Plantikow. The plaintiff seeks $400 and asked for a jury trial. Morgan and Johns represent the plaintiff and E. C. Smith is appearing for the defendant.

A Bargain Sale of Fine Quality
Shirtings in Jaquard and Stripe Weaves—Tomorrow

VERY SPECIAL

59c a
Yard

ANOTHER OUTSTANDING BARGAIN of Home Sewing Week is the Sale of Men's Shirtings. This Sale is one of our Important Annual Spring Events. It brings an unequalled value in one of the fabrics that many want in Spring. The variety this year is unusually large.

These Materials Include
This Year's Best New Patterns and Colors

THESE SHIRTINGS are shown in the popular Jaquard weaves (small all-over patterns in solid colors) and in smart striped patterns. The Jaquard patterns are all in dark colors. The striped patterns are a medley with Rayon stripes. There are striped patterns of blue, lavender, green or gold on white grounds.

Shirts Made at Home
Fit Better and Are More Satisfying Fits

SHIRTS MADE TO FIT are more comfortable. If a man has very long or very short arms—a shirt made at home will often fit him better than a ready-made one. These materials will make shirts for dress up wear, at the cost of men's shirts.

ACTUAL VALUES TO $1—ONLY 59c a yard.

Council Sets
2 Weeks For City Clean-up

Clean up period in Appleton will be from April 20 to May 1 this year. It was decided by Mayor John Goodland and city council Wednesday night. Cooperation of the street department and the citizens in cleaning up will ish from yards and streets, is asked. Further plans will be made soon.

The mayor and council heard an invitation of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities to attend the annual convention at Madison on May 27, 28 and 29. The league secretary wrote that it was planned to make this year's convention the greatest in history, and requested the Appleton council to express its preference as to speakers and suggest problems it wished to hear discussed.

Miss Florence M. Kahn returned Tuesday to Madison where she will assume her studies at the state university.

Patrons of the post office paid little heed to warnings of changes in postal rates effective Wednesday, according to William H. Zuehlke, postmaster. Many firms Wednesday took third class matter to the post office without paying attention to the new rates in effect on parcel post, and were annoyed when the matter was returned for more stamps.

"Evidently Post-Crescent subscribers believed Mayor Goodland when
